Supporting information

Priority	This Working Group has a high priority because the impact of climate variability on small pelagic fishes and their ecosystems has been largely ignored, as, in the past, ICES had put its focus on climate studies of larger predatory fish (cod) and more northern ecosystems.

 This working group contributes to the preparation of the PICES/ICES Symposium on 'Drivers of Pelagic Fish resources' in Victoria, Canada, 2017.
 This Working Group is a support action for the Strategic Initiative on Effects of Climate Change on Marine Ecosystems (SICCME) of ICES.
 This Working Group is an ideal vehicle to continue and strengthen collaboration with PICES which was successfully started some years ago in the field of small pelagics and climate by joint workshops and theme sessions.
 This Working Group cooperates with scientists of the General Fisheries Council of the Mediterranean (GFCM).

Resource requirements	None
Participants	The participants of this Working Group should represent different disciplines such as fisheries science, planktology, physical oceanography, climatology. Scientists from the General Fisheries Council of the Mediterranean (GFCM)
Secretariat facilities	None.
Financial	No financial implications.
Linkages to ACOM and groups under ACOM	There are no obvious direct linkages.
Linkages to other committees or groups	The Working Group will link up with other ICES groups such as SICCME, WGOH, WGZE.
Linkages to other organizations	The Working Group will seek close cooperation with other international organisations, particularly from the North Pacific (PICES) and the Mediterranean (GFCM).
